

It is also necessary not to overlook the famous invocation of blessings upon the Holy Prophet and the Ahl al-Bayt, peace be upon them, that is ascribed to Abu'l-Ḥasan al-Ḍarrāb al-Isfahānī. Shaykh al-Tūsī and Sayyid Ibn Ṭāwūs have included this famous invocation with the recommended rites of Friday afternoons. Confirming its significance and writing down the series of its reporters, Sayyid Ibn Ṭāwūs adds, "This invocation is reported from our master Imam al-Mahdī, peace be upon him. As for Shaykh al-Tūsī, he says, "This invocation is reported from the Patron of the Age, Imam al-Mahdī, peace be upon him. It was shown to Abu'l-Ḥasan al-Ḍarrāb in Makkah."

Allowing for summary, the series of reporters will be overlooked. However, the supplication is as follows:

In the Name of Allah, the All-beneficent, the All-merciful.

O Allah, (please) send blessings to Muḥammad, the master of the messengers (of Allah), the seal of the Prophets, and the Argument of the Lord of the worlds [against His creatures] who had been elected [for Prophethood] since the Covenant and chosen since the World of Shadows, and who is purified from all defects and freed from all deficiencies, and who is hoped for salvation and expected for intercession, and to whom the religion of Allah is delegated.

O Allah, (please) confer honor upon his structure, ennoble his authority,

make successful his cogency, lift up his rank,

light up his illumination, make his face glow with whiteness, grant him merit, virtue,

[supreme] position, [right of] mediation, and sublime rank,

and send him a praiseworthy status which the past and last generations will wish to have.

And send blessings to `Alī, the Commander of the Believers, the inheritor of the Messengers, the leader of the white-forehead groups,
